

While the social whirlwind hoped for by the society editor did not follow last week's calm, yet there was more doing this week than had been anticipated. Not the least of this activity, either, was in cupid's realm, for this week saw two June brides. And it is whispered that ere the enticing month of roses is past, several more popular young people will plight their troth. A delightful party or two helped enliven things, while a most enjoyable hop by the Fortnightly club composed of members of the younger set, at Rosenthal hall last night, closed a week of more than usual gaiety for the summer season. Among the scheduled events for the coming week is a dancing party at the Commercial club on Thursday night.

Today is the 21st anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hubbard.

Mrs. Harry Hartley and Miss Irene Hill departed this afternoon on an extended eastern trip.

Mrs. A. G. Ward, wife of the superintendent of the Astec mine at Baldy, is the guest of friends in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Geo. E. Moys, son and daughter, depart for Cimarron, Kansas on a visit on an early train tomorrow morning.

Miss Julia Ettinger left for Ocala, Florida, yesterday afternoon to spend a few weeks visiting Miss Edith Well of that place.

Miss Muriel Hill, city school teacher, left Thursday afternoon for Denver, out from which city she will spend her summer vacation.

Wilson Mills, son of Chief Justice and Mrs. J. H. Ward, will reach home from Yale college on or about June 25, to spend his vacation.

Miss Jennette Ward, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Ward, left yesterday for an extended visit to friends in the Capital City.

Mrs. Caroline H. Gibson and daughter, Miss Gladys M. Gibson, have returned to their old home at Mobile, Ala., after an extended sojourn in this city.

Mrs. Clarence Iden left during the week for Prescott, Ia., on a visit to a sister, Miss Ballou, who made her home in this city with her for a number of years.

Miss Mianie E. Craig, a teacher in the Douglas avenue building, left for Greeley, Colo., Thursday afternoon to attend the summer term of the normal in that city.

Miss Grace Dunlop, a daughter of the late Bishop George K. Dunlop, arrived in the city during the week for a visit to her sister, Mrs. C. C. Glase. Miss Dunlop is on her way to California.

Lawrence Clark, a younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Clark, is home to spend his vacation from Michigan University at Ann Arbor, where he is taking a literary course of study and making a splendid record.

Last night's informal dance at Rosenthal hall by the Fortnightly club, numbering among its members those of the younger social set, was a very pleasant affair and thoroughly enjoyed by those who were there. It is likely that the semi-weekly hops by this club will be given regularly hereafter, as a means of breaking the usual monotony of summer.

The Monday Afternoon Bridge club met this week with Mrs. T. B. McNair, 715 Fourth street. A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the members. The club will meet next Monday afternoon with Mrs. E. G. Austen.

Mrs. R. R. Larkin and her two bright little daughters have canceled their trip to the popular El Porvenir resort, and will depart for Long Beach, Calif., on June 24, where they will join the Las Vegas colony now at the seashore.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wilkens and children have arrived in the city from Monticello, Iowa, and will spend the summer at the R. J. Taupert home, Mrs. Wilkens being a sister of Mrs. Taupert. They are enjoying their visit here.

Will Tipton, a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Tipton, is home from Notre Dame University for the summer vacation. The young man this year completed the preparatory course at this institution and the coming fall will enter the university as a freshman.

Miss Grace G. Cline returned Tuesday from a lengthy visit to Chicago, stopping at Denver enroute home. Miss Cline, with her father, C. L. Cline, claim agent for the Santa Fe railway, have taken the Larkin home, 624 Twelfth street, for the summer.

Mrs. J. van Houten, who spent the past week in Las Vegas on a visit to friends, left for her home at Raton yesterday. While here Mrs. van Houten was the complimented guest at several exclusive social functions, which included dinners and bridge parties.

Miss L. Clyde Johnson of Albin, Miss., a girlhood friend and schoolmate of Mrs. Harry Haskell, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Haskell. The two had not met before in eight years, and the greeting between them was cordial in the extreme.

Miss Irene Archibald and Miss Marguerite Claxton returned home during the week from a Denver boarding school. Both young ladies are accomplished musicians, the former being a talented soloist, while the latter is a splendid pianist. They will spend vacation days at their homes in this city.

Letters received from Mrs. H. W. Greene of this city, state that she would leave Paris today for London and Liverpool, meeting her sister, Miss Florence Snow, in the latter city, going thence to Wales. They will tour England and Scotland for three weeks or more, then cross the English channel to Ostend and Brussels.

W. C. McCulloch, a banker at Pomeroy, Ia., who had been a visitor to this city and nearby mountain resorts since March 25, departed for home yesterday accompanied by Mrs. McCulloch and their son, R. M. McCulloch and wife. They were much benefited by coming here and are loud in their praises of climate, scenery and people.

Miss Virginia McComas, a teacher in the Kansas City public schools, who is visiting her brothers, Russell and Ira McComas, of this city, left for El Porvenir yesterday accompanied by Russell McComas, Mrs. Ira McComas, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Northrup and Dr. B. S. McGowan's little son to make a two weeks' visit at that place.

The following social note in the Silver City Independent from Santa Rita, would imply that another wedding in Las Vegas society is scheduled for the near future: "A linen shower was tendered to Miss Ella Smith by her numerous friends on Saturday afternoon, previous to her departure for her home in Las Vegas, where she will shortly be married."

She was the recipient of many handsome pieces of drawnwork and household linen. Miss Smith has taught in the public school for the past three years, and it is with regret, but with many wishes for her future happiness that her friends see her leave.

Among the distinguished guests now sojourning at the Plaza hotel and sanitarium, is Mrs. H. B. Crawford, of Columbus, Ga., wife of the general superintendent of the Georgia Central railroad, and one of the most prominent railway officials in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gortner entertained at dinner at their home on the plaza Monday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. J. van Houten, of Raton. Places were set for eight, those present besides host and hostess being Mr. and Mrs. van Houten, Mr. and Mrs. E. Godwin-Austen and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Spiess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gortner had as their guests during the week Mrs. John Gortner of Goshen, Ind., and Mrs. William B. Jacobs of Chicago, who stopped off in Las Vegas a day on their way to the Grand Canyon, Los Angeles, San Francisco and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle. They will return home via the northern route.

Mrs. Chas. H. Hild entertained six tables at bridge Thursday afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. J. van Houten of Raton, different prizes being awarded at each table. The prize winners were: Mrs. H. B. Crawford, of Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. F. H. Pierce, Mrs. T. B. McNair, Mrs. Chas. Tammie, Mrs. H. E. Fell and Miss Mary B. Davis. Refreshments were served.

Miss Bessie Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cooley of this city, who had been taking a course in harmony and receiving instructions on a pipe organ at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, left that city for Las Vegas yesterday. She will stop off enroute and visit friends and relatives at Lexington, Mo., and Oxford, Kan., reaching home next week.

Mrs. Chas. O'Malley entertained the Rebekah club and a number of friends at her home, 713 Main street, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was opened by a piano solo by Miss Vivian Hedgcock; then the biography of Longfellow by Mrs. E. J. Scott, followed by a duet by Misses Kingsley and Hedgcock. During roll-call each member responded with a quotation by Longfellow, after which a violin solo by Mrs. O'Malley was enjoyed by all, Miss Kingsley playing the accom-ectors in one of the Lone Star State's largest educational institutions. From Waco Dr. Gowen will go to Denver to attend the annual session of the National Educational Association, before which he will also speak.

Attorneys J. D. W. Veeder and E. E. Veeder have as their guests Rev. J. V. Wemple and family of Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Wemple being their sister, Miss Jennie Crawford, a member of the Wemple household, also made the trip west with them. Dr. Wemple is one of the leading pastors of the Empire state's capital, filling the pulpit of the Sixth Presbyterian church in Albany. The minister and his family will be the guests of the Veeder brothers until fall.

Miss Stella Cayot, sister of Francis H. Cayot, is expected to return home next week from Boston, where she has been attending the Conservatory of Music. The following item from the Atchison, (Kans.) Daily Champion, relative to Miss Cayot's visit to friends in that city, will be of interest to her friends: "Miss Stella Cayot, whose home is in Las Vegas, N. M., arrived in Atchison today, to spend a few days at the John Murray residence. Miss Cayot is on her way home from Boston, where she has been at the Conservatory of Music the past two years. Miss Cayot is an accomplished musician who already has had some of her own compositions published. The young lady is a sister of Francis H. Cayot, who married Miss Grace Murray of this city."

Gortner-Renehan
The announcement of the wedding of Mrs. A. H. Renehan, formerly of Santa Fe, to Robert C. Gortner, a former prominent New Mexico attorney, which took place June 8th, at Los Angeles, Calif., was of interest to the many Las Vegas friends of the couple. The Los Angeles Times had the following to say of the marriage: "Mrs. Zephora G. Renehan of Ocean Park and R. C. Gortner of this city were married last evening at Hotel Angelus. The service was read in the presence of a few friends who included Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Thompson of Las Cruces, N. M., who are spending their honeymoon in southern California, and with whom Mr. and Mrs. Gortner have gone to San Diego. After September 1 the latter couple will be domiciled at their new home at Oneonta Park, South Pasadena."

Clark-La Rue
A charming June wedding was that which at high noon on Wednesday united the lives of Miss Jeannette La Rue and Herbert W. Clark. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, and was performed by Rev. J. S. Moore, rector of St. Paul's Memorial church. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were in attendance. The La Rue home was effectively decorated with cut flowers, ferns and foliage. The bride was attended by only her father, who gave her in marriage. She is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. La Rue, and has lived in this city most of her life. Her pleasing personality and winsome ways have endeared her to a large circle of friends, and she is very popular in Las Vegas society. The groom is assistant United States attorney for New Mexico, and one of the best known young lawyers of the territory. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Clark. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, after which the young people left for Denver and other Colorado points to spend their honeymoon.
